Yesterday's game was with Yale, and the college team was beaten by a score of 17 to 4. Manhattan and Fordham colleges; have, besten Yale and Fordham colleges have beaten Yale without much trouble this season, but in New-York's victory vesterday it was the evidence of strength that pleased the well wishers of the home team. The New Yorkers were as fast as ever in their play, and their batting showed their eyes were in trim.

Mathewson pitched the first three innings for New York, then McClunits three and Wiltse three. The Yale batters made one hit off Mathewson, four off McGinnity, and five off Wiltse, but were unable to do anything at the bat wntil the professionals had a big lead.

The most encouraging point about Yale's play was her batting ability to meet the ball squarely. Kinney at third base played a fine game for the Blue.

The New Yorks ran the bases at will owing to the poor work of Erwin. They cut loose with the stick in the last inning and did some great hitting. Errors and stolen bases also gave them a number of runs. They were always quick to take advantage of a misplay by their opponents, which was one of the reasons for their success last year. As a con-

AMERICANS PLAY WELL. ew Yorks Return Home and Beat Jersey City Team.

The New York Americans got home from their Southern trip resterday morning, and in the afternoon went over to Jersey City and won from the Eastern Leaguers of that city. It was not a hard game for Griffith's men to win, the score being 7 to t, and they were not extended at any time. They were not called on to show their speed, but their clean cut, confident play bespoke a team in the best of condition and strength There were very few days on the Southern

There were very few days on the Southern trip when we were not out working," said Manager Griffith before the game resterday, "and the result is no team is more fitthan we are. Nor do I think any team is better off in the quality of its playing strength. We are stronger than last year, and all I ask is that we are not hand(capped by injuries, as last year. "Our pitching staff is in better shape. Young thase will make the infield faster, and I think you'll see speedier work all around."

Opportune batting, fielding misplays by Jersey City and the inability of the latter to hit Puttmann and Newton were the main factors in yesterday's game. Joe Yeager was in batting mood, with two doubles and geingle. He played third base instead of Conroy, who stopped off at Camden to see his family. Duff was in centre field, as Anderson missed the train in Washington on the way north and was left there. Chase's smooth first base play was generally admired, and the verdict regarding the California youngster was the same as in the South, that he is a player of rare promise. The score: player of rare promise.

T. Hitchcock, Jr's, Black Hussar Victorious in the Spring Steeplechase —Yeoman Bests Flinders in Three-Year-Old Event-Three Favorites Win

WASHINGTON, April 8 .- Although the cold snap was still in evidence, a holiday crowd attended the races at Bennings to-day, the horses running over a slow track. Oaklawn, by Farandale—Märgaret Jane, who has been all along regarded as the best coit of his age at this track, was impressively victorious in the Washington Nursery Stakes for two-year-olds, at four and a half furlongs, which was the leading feature of the card. ONE OF A HOST TO OPEN THE SEASON'S GAMES.

Married Men Beat Bachelors at Richmond County Club-Opening Monthly Handicap at Dyker Meadow-Hazards at Marine and Field Improve Links.

It was general opening day on the golf courses hereabouts yesterday and April handed out one of its bargain days for the tions, with an army of casual players out everywhere to limber up after the relaxing days of winter. But for the odd patches of bright new grass, as distinct in their brighter green as checkerboard squares on the older turf, the links throughout the M. G. A. round looked in summer verdure, and, while not rolled and pounded hard, the putting greens were too good to be held responsible for all of the missed puts. That trees and bushes are still bare is a detail of no consequence to the golfers, for they have eyes only for the lie and the flight of the ball. To them it was time to chorus the spring song.

A mound of earth that suggests a gigantic mole burrow now crosses the links of the Marine and Field Club at Bath Beach. It covers the sewer pipes to drain that section and adds two fine hazards, which improve the round at no cost to the club. One has to be played on the approach to the fourth hole and the other carried from the eighth tee, and here the earth is a six foot bunker. A new bunker has been put in for the second shot to the first green and all of the stones have been taken off the fair green to the ninth hole. Will Hughes, who has been in England for the winter, was on hand to reopen the season as golf steward yesterday and Tom Gourley, There were some twenty members out for in-

This will thin them out to an extent and be an improvement, as they have always in the past been too heavy, thick and overgrown with clover in midsummer. FAST LACROSSE MATCH. Crescents Beat Stevens Institute by the Score of 8 to 6.

Stevens Institute came over from Hoboken vesterday with the best lacrosse team turned out by the old New Jersey educational institution in recent years. They lined up against the Crescent A. C. at Bay Ridge, and in a rattling opening game for the club men gave the Crescents about all they wanted to do to win. The Jerseymen scored three goals inside of the first three minutes of play McKinley, Davis and Roberts did the scoring for them. O'Flynn then scored for the Crescents, and Gill followed with another one for the Brooklyn team. McKinley then taillied the final goal for the Jerseymen of the period, and O'Flynn, who put up a star game, shot the last goal of the half for the Crescents. The score at the end of the half was: Stevens, 4. Crescents, 3.

With the score against them the Crescents worked like Beavers in the second half and pulled the game out of the fire by 2 goals. The final score was: Crescents A. C., 8 goals: Stevens Institute, 6 goals. inside of the first three minutes of play

NOTES OF THE TRADE. Horse and Carriage Dealers Busy

William H. Gray's, Incorporated, have prepared for their spring trade a large number of carriages of every approved type. These include runabouts, cut under driving wagons, spider wagons, knock abouts and the well known "Gray" station wagons The Wooster street dealer is counting on an un-precedented demand and has made arrangements accordingly.

That Gray has made Wooster street famous a a carriage mart is fairly well evidenced by the many carriage dealers that have located there since the beginning of the season. Asked in regard to the effect the newcomers had on his business, Gray said: "Let them all come. When they get through looking they'll come here to buy."

The Mark Cross Company's stores have com-pictely upset the idea of what a harness store should be. There is about everything a refined air, a style that has long been identified with Cross harness and leather goods, both here and abroad.

A most interesting little booklet, "What Five Dollars Will Ito for a Horse," is being distributed by the Pisine Chemical Company, Troy, N. V. It not only treats of the remarkable cures effected by the Pisine veterinary remedies, but is chock ful of other useful information about the horse.

W. R. Bishop is turning out an exceptionally fine line of station wagons this season. He has them with movable glass or curtains, and in one particular style the glass may be raised or lowered, making a light brougham or an open carriage as desired.

The old Peters Harness and Saddlery Campans is still the necca for horse owners who exercise economy in their purchases. Here the prices are away below those usually asked by special dealers, but the styles are up to date and quality of the best.
